LA FOLLETTE ENDS ARGUMENT

PROTESTS AGAINST PASSAGE OF ALDRICH BILL.

WOULD ASSIST WALL STREET

Passage of Measure, Senator Asserts, Would Only Serve to Strengthen the Already Too Great Power in Money Center—Bill to Remain Before Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Upon the conclusion of Senator LaFollette's speech on Senator Aldrich's currency bill in the Senate today, a stand was decided upon in which Senator Aldrich will tomorrow move to take up the bill and continue its discussion until it is ... of Mr. Aldrich asked for unanimous consent to dispose of the bill before adjournment Thursday, but to that proposition Senator LaFollette objected on the ground that he feared debate would be curtailed by such a procedure.

The colloquy which resulted in Mr. Aldrich's announcement, followed the conclusion of the third and last installment of Senator LaFollette's speech in opposition to the Aldrich bill.

Mr. LaFollette declared his statements on the industries of this country being controlled by less than 100 men, had been attacked as sensational. Declaring that such was not the case, he said that he had been too conservative and, in fact, a much smaller number of men dominate the industries.

Strife Has Ceased.

Along with the enormous increase in trust power has gone a steady process of centralization in the control of that power, until now the entire situation is dominated by the Standard Oil-Morgan combine," he declared. The old fights between these two great powers have been laid aside. Mr. Morgan's picture adorns the walls of the inner rooms of the Rockefellers at 26 Broadway. In combination, today they are working together to gather in the small powers. Mr. Hill has been taught that he must not oppose the big ones. The Standard Oil got in on the Great

FLEET TO VISIT CHINA

INVITATION HAS BEEN OFFICIALLY ACCEPTED.

Battleships Expected to Reach Atlantic Coast on Washington's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The battleship fleet will visit China as ... Australia and Japan and will ... Washington's birthday, ... President Roosevelt may participate in the welcome before his retirement from office, 10 days later.

In deciding, at the cabinet session today, to accept the invitation extended by China, it was also determined that the first of the social calls had been tendered and that all other invitations, should any be extended, would be declined with appreciative and regretful thanks.

An earlier departure than ... from San Francisco is being contemplated, in arranging the extended itinerary. This, however, will depend on the repairs necessary when the ships reach that port. Admiral Evans reported today that splendid progress was being made in the target practice at Magdalena bay. Nine of the ships have already completed their work. These are the Maine, Alabama, Illinois, Georgia, Louisiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Kentucky and Kearsarge. The impression prevails at the department that the Maine and Alabama may be detached from the fleet and their places taken by the Nebraska and Wisconsin. The two former ships may be in need of ...

MESSAGE LIKELY TO AROUSE LABOR

MATTER OF BOYCOTTS TO BE THRESHED OUT.

TAFT MANAGERS ARE UNEASY

SPECIAL DOCUMENT CAUSE OF MUCH CONCERN.

FORMS BASIS OF PLATFORM

President's Message to Be Sent to Congress This Week Said to Be of Far-Reaching Importance. May Cause Serious Split With Working Class.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Roosevelt's special message to congress, which will be transmitted this week, is a document of more far-reaching importance than has been generally supposed. It has been made known by the President's friends that the message is intended to form the basis for the Republican national platform of 1908 instead of being merely a group of suggestions as to legislation which the President desires to have adopted at the present legislative session.

What is regarded as one of the most important, if not the most important feature of the message from a political standpoint, is the President's discussion of labor boycotts.

It is declared he takes issue with the demands of Samuel Gompers and the representatives of organized labor, that the Sherman antitrust law should be amended so as to exempt labor unions from the operation of the law, and lays down principles interpreted to mean that the Republican party should meet organized labor squarely in the next campaign on the boycott proposition.

Friends of Secretary Taft, as well as the men managing his campaign, are plainly worried over the possible effect of the forthcoming message, for, although the President's right-hand man is already threatened with the knife by the labor vote, it is feared that the message to be sent to Congress will make the breach so wide that it cannot be spanned and may doom Taft to defeat at the polls if not at the nominating convention.

Stands Firm on Boycott.

To attempt to explain this understood attitude of Mr. Roosevelt in the face of the knowledge that the administration has put an embargo on prosecutions of labor unions for boycotting, would be mainly speculative upon the basis of the information that Mr. Roosevelt virtually locks horns with organized labor in regard to the liability of labor unions to prosecution under the Sherman law for maintaining boycotts, is direct and positive and comes from a reliable source.

Enough is known to show that at the several conferences between the President, members of the Civic federation and others, with the object of preparing a bill amendatory of the Sherman law, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Gompers came to a deadlock.

Mr. Gompers was insistent that the amendatory bill should include a direct exception of labor unions from classification as "combinations in restraint of trade." ... who participated in the conference were willing that this suggestion should be accepted, believing that the mandatory legislation might fail if it were not. On the face of the proposition, however, it appeared to be unconstitutional in that it provided for giving special exemption.

Amendments Asked by Gompers.

Mr. Gompers refused to sanction the bill without this exemption, and the President, it is declared, declined to change his position. Mr. Gompers put his suggestions in the following proposed amendment to the Sherman law:

"That nothing in said act or in this act is intended, nor shall any provisions thereof hereafter be enforced so as to apply to organizations or associations not for profit and without capital stock, nor to the members of such organizations or associations.

"That nothing in said act or in this act is intended, or shall any provision thereof hereafter be enforced, so as to apply to any arrangements, agreements or combinations among persons engaged in agriculture or horticulture, made with a view of enhancing the price of their own agricultural or horticultural products."

Gives Relief on Injunctions.

The forthcoming message will contain, however, a recommendation for the enactment of legislation in regard to the issue of injunctions against labor unions.

The President will urge the passage of a law providing that no injunction shall be issued by a United States judge until due notice has been given to the persons or organizations sought to be enjoined to show cause why the injunction should not be granted. It is urged, further, that if there is refusal to obey an injunction the contempt proceedings shall be heard by a judge other than the judge who issued the injunction.

The proposed law is to be recommended for enactment as part of the program of legislative business which the President and Republican leaders in the Senate and the House have mapped out for the present session. The leaders have declined so far, how-

JOURNALISTS WIN OUT

SECURE APOLOGY FROM MEMBER OF REICHSTAG.

During Course of Strike Nothing Has Been Printed of Doings of Germany's Lawmaking Body.

BERLIN, March 24.—The strike of the reichstag journalists, which began on Thursday last, was settled this evening. Under pressure from the various party leaders, Herr Groeber, the Center leader, who had called the journalists "swine" because they jeered at a statement used by a member to the effect that negroes also had immortal souls, read a statement at the end of the day's sitting, expressing apologies for the language he had used in referring to the journalists. At the conclusion of the statement, a meeting of the journalists was called, and they voted to return to work on Thursday.

During the course of the strike not a line has been published here on the proceedings in the reichstag, and as a result of this failure of publicity, a large number of the members declined to deliver speeches of which they had given notice, thus greatly impeding the work of the house.

WAS MURDER COMMITTED?

Body of Well-Dressed Man Found Along D. & R. G. Near Florence.

FLORENCE, March 24.—What the police believe to be an atrocious murder was revealed here this morning with the discovery of the dismembered body of a well-dressed man four miles west of Florence on the Denver and Rio Grande tracks. Papers and letters found on his person indicate the dead man was Frank H. Kickham, but it is not known where he lived. The man had evidently been run over by a train, but owing to the fact that his valise, which lay near the track, had been opened and the contents, including several dollars in small change, had been scattered about, the police believe he was first killed by robbers and the body thrown on the tracks to hide the crime.

COAL CASE TO BE RETRIED

PUEBLO, March 24.—Word was received here today that the United States circuit court of appeals had reversed the finding of the United States district court here in the case of the United States versus the Utah Coal and Coke company and that the case has been remanded back to the lower court for a new trial. This trial will be held April 9.

The government asks $650,000 damages from the coal company, for taking coal from government lands, fraudulently secured. When the case was tried here in October 1906, the government was awarded $5,125 damages but took an appeal.

GOVERNOR GUILD IMPROVED

BOSTON, March 24.—Up to a late hour tonight Governor Curtis H. Guild continued to rest easily and to hold the ground he gained in the morning. The improvement has not been great, but his condition today somewhat dispelled the gloom which prevailed throughout the city yesterday.

FIRES ON BOY WITH SHOTGUN

Former Building Inspector of Cripple Creek, Charged With Assault to Murder.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 24.—H. L. Trittipo, former building inspector, was arrested tonight on a warrant sworn out in Justice Stephenson's court, charging him with assault to murder. The case was set for hearing April 2, and the defendant was released on $1,000 bond.

Last night Trittipo claims to have discovered three boys in the act of breaking into his barn, supposedly for the purpose of stealing pigeons. Trittipo had been molested in this manner before, and had loaded a shotgun with fine shot. With this he fired on the boys, filling 14-year-old Roy Bussmeyer with its contents. The boy's right arm was broken, and it was necessary that he be taken to a hospital to remove the shot from his body.

TOWN DESTROYED BY CYCLONE

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., March 24.—The town of Lyon, six miles from here, was destroyed by a cyclone early this morning. Two persons were killed, Jim Wright, colored, and a child of Major Lyle. A number of others were injured. The costly home of Mr. Dally was carried 10 feet. Every house in the town was damaged. The track of the storm was two miles wide and four miles long.

AMERICAN CAR IS RESTING

Is Undergoing Repairs at San Francisco—Far in the Lead of Other Contestants.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The American car in the New York-to-Paris race arrived at the ferry slip and was driven aboard the ferry boat at 3:37 this afternoon, and 20 minutes later was rolling along Market street, accompanied by no less than 200 other automobiles.

The American car will remain here for several days, undergoing numerous repairs and a thorough overhauling. It is not badly damaged, apparently, from the journey across the continent, but will be put in the best condition possible before proceeding by steamer to Valdez. The time of leaving here has not been definitely settled upon, but the car may not start until the early part of May.

The French car No. 2 arrived on the Southern Pacific overland at 4:30 this afternoon.

The Italian car is undergoing repairs at Ogden, 890 miles to the rear of the American automobile. It is being rapidly overhauled by the first French car, which is tonight at Church Buttes, Wyo., only 134 miles east of Ogden, and the French car is 176 miles ahead of the German contestant. The latter is spending the night at Rawlins, Wyo.

ORCHARD MAY CHEAT GALLOWS

Pardon Board Likely to Commute Death Sentence to One of Life Imprisonment.

PUEBLO, March 24.—A special to the Chieftain from Ouray says:

Harry Orchard, under sentence of death in Idaho as the self-confessed murderer of Governor Steunenberg, will appear as the chief witness for the prosecution against Steve Adams at Telluride in May, where Adams is to be tried in connection with the mysterious disappearance of a man named Barney during the riots of 1901 and 1902. To bring Orchard here as a witness, it will be necessary for the Idaho board of pardons to commute his sentence of death to one of life imprisonment, and word has been received in this city from most reliable sources that such action will be taken in due time.

CABINET REORGANIZED

TOKIO, March 24.—A reorganization of the cabinet has been effected. The following appointments were announced this morning:

Baron Sengo, former governor of Tokio, to be minister of justice.

Viscount Hotta, minister of communication.

M. Matsuda, minister of finance.

M. Hara, minister of interior.

This constitutes a coalition cabinet, and it is said that no further changes are expected.

TABOOS CIGARETTES.

GUTHRIE, Okla., March 24.—The house, on reconsideration, today passed the bill making it a crime punishable by a fine of from $5 to $25 to smoke cigarettes.

INSPECTS TORPEDO TUBES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 24.—Lieut. Joseph R. Defrees, one of the men in charge of the United States government naval gun factory at Washington, D. C., is in San Diego en route to Magdalena bay, where he goes to inspect the new torpedo tubes being used for the first time by the battleship fleet. It is the intention of the department to give the tubes a thorough trying out at Magdalena bay before deciding to adopt them.

TUTT RANCH IS SOLD

BOUGHT AS SITE FOR NEW SANITARY DAIRY.

W. O. Weeden Is President and Manager of New Company, Organized With Capital of $200,000.

With the purchase of a 520-acre tract north of the city, and the organization of the company with a capitalization of $200,000, plans for the new sanitary dairy have now materialized to such an extent that the construction work on the buildings will begin within a short time. This movement was fostered at the meeting of prominent physicians and business men at the Acacia hotel last fall, and it has now taken definite shape.

A company has been organized with a capital stock of $200,000, and a sufficient amount has already been subscribed to insure the erection of modern, up-to-date buildings, constructed of reinforced concrete and to equip the dairy plant with the latest apparatus and a select herd of cows.

The well-known Tutt ranch of 520 acres, situated two miles north of the city, has been purchased through the agency of Charles P. Bennett and Charles T. Fertig. This ranch is supplied with an abundance of exceptionally pure spring water, and will make an ideal site for such a dairy. Thus the plan seems about to be realized of locating near this city one of the finest dairy plants in the country.

It is intended to introduce largely the standard and methods of the famous Fairchild dairy of Montclair, N. J., and to adopt the system of physicians' inspection originated by Dr. Henry L. Coit of Newark, who is the father of the "certified milk" movement in this country.

At a meeting of the organizers the following officers were chosen: President and general manager, W. O. Weeden; vice president, George C. Holden; secretary-treasurer, W. D. Quackenbush; board of directors, T. J. Fisher, P. B. Stewart, George C. Holden, W. D. Quackenbush, C. P. Bennett, W. O. Weeden and one other not yet chosen.

Incorporation papers will soon be filed and construction work on the new buildings commenced. Mr. Weeden leaves shortly for the east on a business trip to perfect his plans.

It is generally known that General Palmer, through his public spirit and foresight, has encouraged this dairy enterprise from its inception, and has contributed very largely to its financial support.

Seconding the efforts of General Palmer have been those of Peter Quackenbush, who also from the start has taken a very cordial and substantial interest in the movement.

ABE RUEF WILL FURNISH BOND

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The district court of appeals this afternoon ordered Abraham Ruef released upon a nominal bail of $5 upon each of the 87 duplicate indictments, but did not reduce the bail upon the other indictments, amounting to $790,000. Ruef stated this evening that he would furnish bonds for this sum.

CHIEF SHIPPY IS EXONERATED

Killing of Averbuch Declared Justifiable by Jury—Young Shippy Is Recovering.

CHICAGO, March 24.—A coroner's jury tonight declared Chief of Police Shippy and J. F. Foley, his driver, to have been justified in killing Averbuch, the young Russian Jew, who attacked the chief in his home recently. The verdict was rendered after a short deliberation of the long and exhaustive inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the shooting. More than a score of witnesses were examined, chief among whom are Olga Averbuch, sister of the dead man; Chief Shippy himself; his son Harry, who is recovering from an all but fatal shot through the chest received in the affray, and other members of the chief's household. The verdict, after a perfunctory recital of the jury's finding as to the cause of Averbuch's death, read:

"From the testimony presented, we, the jury, believe that said shooting was justifiable and exonerate said ... and ...

TARGET PRACTICE IS BEING RUSHED

FLEET EXPECTS TO LEAVE THE BAY, APRIL 12.

SPLENDID RECORDS EXPECTED

ALL FIRING BEING DONE AT RANGE OF 1,600 YARDS.

TONS OF AMMUNITION USED

Many Thousands of Dollars Consumed by Each Battleship—Period of Coaling and Cleaning Will Precede Cruise Along California Coast.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 24.—Wireless reports from Magdalena bay tell of rapid progress being made by the 16 battleships of Admiral Evans' command toward the completion of their record target practice. All of the firing so far has been at a range of 1,600 yards or just short of one mile. The firing also has been confined to stationary targets, and it is now believed that there will be no change either of range or character of targets during the remainder of practice.

It was thought that the Magdalena bay work of the fleet would include a variety of ranges, extending even up to 9,000 yards, the maximum for battle practice, with the primary 12 and 13-inch turret guns and moving targets attached to the end of a long tow line, but late advices say the gunnery practice will be strictly limited to record work at 1,600 yards and at anchored targets 12 by 21 feet in size.

Another Ten Days of Practice.

The practice has been under way for more than 10 days and the firing has been constant, Sundays not being excluded in the rush to finish as early as possible. Another 10 days, it is believed, will see the conclusion of the range work and then will follow a period of coaling and cleaning up for the fetes that await the ships along the hospitable shores of California.

According to present plans, as announced by Admiral Evans, the fleet will leave Magdalena bay at daylight on the morning of April 12—just one month to a day from the time of arrival within this most favored of Pacific naval bases. The steaming speed will be raised to 11 knots on the run to San Diego to bring the fleet to anchor off Coronado Beach at 1:30 p. m., April 14. The run from Magdalena bay to San Diego is about 620 miles and has been made in 47 hours by many of the cruisers.

Splendid Records Expected.

Admiral Evans will allow a fraction over 56 hours for the trip, however, as he does not desire to tire out the engineers' force.

No official announcement of the records made by the different ships will come from Magdalena bay, Admiral Evans having decided to send all of this class of information in confidential mail communications to the navy department at Washington. It will take some time for the fleet ordnance officer, Lieut. Commander Ridley M. McLean, of Rear Admiral Evans' personal staff, to prepare the individual and average records, and it may be that the reports will not go east until after the arrival of the fleet off this coast. Splendid records are looked for, however, as the short range and the fixed targets call for a high percentage of hits under the efficiency attained in recent years by the gun crews of the navy.

Records practice, which is always carried on at the 1,600-yard range, is really a training in speed and facility of firing rather than a true test of accuracy, which principally comes in the battle practice over ranges which vary from 4,000 to 9,000 yards. It is the naval theory that men who can fire straight and rapidly at 1,600 yards can be depended upon to fire just as rapidly and with almost the same precision at the greater ranges, where familiarity with the guns means everything. The officer in charge of the range finders announces the long distances in battle and it is the gunner who first gets his weapon trained for the range and sighted upon the object that does the most effective work.

Tons of Ammunition Used.

Some idea of the amount of work being done at Magdalena bay can be gleaned from the official statement of ammunition expended by the cruiser Tennessee, recently returned from the practice grounds. At preliminary practice, the Tennessee used 13,712 pounds of powder and 26,242 pounds of shell, the cost being $15,969.?? At record practice the Tennessee used 19,992 pounds of powder and 31,936 pounds of shell at a cost of $25,742.90. The Tennessee's largest guns are of 10-inch caliber, as against the 12 and 13-inch pieces of the battleships. The ships of the Connecticut type, of which there are five in the fleet, will use up at least one-half more ammunition than the Tennessee and the older ships of the Kentucky and Illinois types will use a third more.

The fact that the latter ships are 10 years old does not detract from the effectiveness of their fire. No better illustration of this can be had than the fact that the Illinois carries the record trophy for battleships, having John Sharp Williams Declares Republican Party Has Become "the Party of Negation"—Representative Cook Is Heard in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—If John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, makes good his warning given in the House of Representatives today, the Republicans will be forced to pass certain legislation or else meet with obstruction at every turn by him or his Democratic colleagues.

Mr. Williams declared that up to now the Republicans have had smooth sailing. He did not want the country to think that the minority was trying to assume responsibility for legislation. He did not desire to appear as trying to coerce the majority until the Republicans had absolutely demonstrated

"I have finally come to the conclusion that the Republican party has forgotten to do anything. It has become the party of negation and of passivity, and, as far as I can see, has no idea of doing anything. It is plain now that without some method of parliamentary coercion, you are going to be deaf to every demand of the country."

Mr. Williams announced that "from this moment on, for the balance of the session, this is not a lie-easy, wait-on-the-enemy campaign, but coercion is going to be exercised." No recommendation for unanimous consent on the part of the Republicans, he said, would be granted unless it be to adjourn or take a recess, "until the majority shows that it is sufficiently alive to the demands of the country" to report for consideration to the House such measures as an employers liability bill, some bill for the publicity of campaign ...

WILL NOT ARBITRATE

OFFICIALS OF D. & R. G. REMAIN FIRM.

Efforts on the Part of Denver Commercial Bodies to End Strike Prove Unsuccessful.

DENVER, March 24.—Efforts on the part of the Denver commercial bodies to intervene in the settlement of the strike of shopmen of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad were unsuccessful today, officials of the road informing a committee headed by President Scholz of the Chamber of Commerce that they had nothing to arbitrate, and would continue the new policy, the putting into effect of which caused the strike. On March 15 the order abrogating all contracts with machinists, boilermakers and other shopmen was put in force and the men affected immediately walked out. The unions expressed their willingness to arbitrate differences.

A conference lasting several hours was held today between Mr. Scholz and M. J. McQueeny, representing district No. 20 of the machinists, William Hannon, vice president of the International Machinists organization; George H. TARGET PRACTICE IS BEING RUSHED won it last year from the Wisconsin. The old ships are constantly being fitted with modern guns and can hit just as hard and often as the new ones. They have not as many guns, however, nor the speed nor the strength of armor of the later-day ships and either the Kentucky and Kearsarge or the Alabama and Illinois must give way to the Wisconsin and the Nebraska when the fleet leaves San Francisco, July 6, for its tour of the world.

Cruiser Albany Sets Standard.

The standard of accuracy at record target practice has been set this year by the cruiser Albany, which made a total score of 128 hits out of 130 shots at a rate of fire never before attained in the navy. The Albany, however, has no turret guns of large caliber to bring down the average for rapidity and no battleship can hope to accomplish all that this little cruiser, which flies the championship pennant of red from her peak, did at the targets.

The stories of the practice work at Magdalena bay are filled with interest. The little targets are placed at the apex of a carefully-measured triangle, across the base of which the ship at practice steams at the rate of 10 knots an hour. As the ship approaches the range, the gun pointers and loading crews are stripped to their waists. Guns are kept trained on the target some time before the signal to begin firing is sounded through the ship and scarcely have the first notes of the well-known bugle call "gone," when the crack of the guns is heard.

Strangely enough it is declared that to the novice the sharp, quick report of the small rifles is more trying on the nerves than the deep-throated roar of the 12-inch guns, whose great muzzles protrude with an unmistakable menace from the slanting elliptical turrets of the modern vessels.

Overpowering Odor.

Below decks the magazine crews, far down in the handling rooms, empty charges of smokeless powder from the copper tanks in which they are stored and send them flying up the whirring ammunition hoists. As each tank is opened, the smell of ether is almost overpowering, despite the fact that the powder still is protected by an air-tight bag of heavy silk. The firing lasts but five minutes. Then the ship turns and steams back in the opposite direction, giving first the port and then the starboard gun crews their turns at the targets.

Officers and men especially trained for the work follow the fire of the guns. Some have eyes keen enough to pick up the pencil like three and five-inch shells soon after they leave the muzzles of the guns and follow to a hit or miss, to the targets. When one of these lynx-eyed experts once was asked by a landsman if he could see a 12-inch shell going through the air, he exclaimed: "See it? Why it looks as big as a trolley car."

COHAN'S PLAY WELL RECEIVED

Second Presentation in This City of "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" Pleases Audience.

Whatever may be the critical verdict on the efforts of George M. Cohan, actor-playwright, it cannot be denied that his entertainments give a great deal of amusement. "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," which was seen at the Opera House last night for the second time, is one of his best musical comedies. During the last five months, three of Cohan's productions have been presented in this city—"Little Johnny Jones," "George Washington, Jr.," and "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," and all have given the spectators their money's worth. They all have consistent plots, which are solved, and not let meander away amidst a bevy of chorus girls and a few musical selections.

This is the third year that "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" has been out, and the second year on the road. The production has not deteriorated, as is generally the case with a two or three-year-old play. The staging was excellent and the scenery does not show any signs of wear. The three settings were better than are ordinarily seen with a musical comedy.

The company is headed by Scott Welsh as "Kid" Burns, who was with the company on its appearance here last year. He gives a delightful impersonation of this slangy hero, and his personal appearance carries out the role to a finish. His love scenes with Mary were well done, and during the evening he gave some genuine comedy work. He was not vulgar, but quiet and effective. He was capably assisted in his scenes by Frances Gordon as Mary, the housemaid. Miss Gordon is the fourth Mary in "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," following Fay Templeton, Corinne and Emma Carus in this role, but her simple manners are quite pleasing, and she sings her various songs quite well. Her song, "Mary Is a Grand Old Name," with its plain sentiment, was sung with feeling for its meaning.

Outside of these two principals, the company was generally fair. Elizabeth Drew—no relation to the famous Drews and Barrymores—was tearful enough for the part of Flora Dora Dean, the footlight favorite, and Claire Grenville, as her mother, was quite domineering when she had to be. John T. Clarke, as Bennett, the heir-at-law, and Edwin Walker, as Blake, the public administrator, fitted nicely into their parts, while James H. Manning, as Cronin, the villain of the play, did his best to be a polished gentleman thief. Carolyn Lee, as Mrs. Purdy, a resident of New Rochelle, who lamented the death of Mr. Castleton, gets rather tiresome with her sobs and cries. The chorus was a Cohan chorus and sang as a Cohan chorus always does. Its many changes of costume, especially in the second act, as the village residents, were good.

The song hits of "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" are too well known to need mention, but "Mary Is a Grand Old Name" and "So Long Mary," are worth rehearing.

ever, to agree to include this measure in the program, and it is not likely to be adopted.

The present week will see practically the completion of the conferences between the President and Congress leaders with a view to agreeing upon the measures to be adopted before adjournment.

Up to this time these include a resolution authorizing the committee on finance of the Senate and the committee on ways and means of the House to make an inquiry into tariff schedules with the intention of revising the tariff at a special session of the Sixty-first Congress, to be called March, 1909, an employers liability bill, a financial bill along the lines of the pending Aldrich measure and a bill for the regulation of child labor in the District of Columbia to serve as a model for states.

The President is anxious to have the Congress leaders agree to put through at this session other measures he will recommend in his special message, but has not succeeded in obtaining their consent. These additional measures include the bill to modify the antitrust law, limit the anti-injunction bill and a bill for creating postal savings banks.

TRUST POWER IS ON THE INCREASE

Northern deal. The Gould interests are being swallowed up by the combine. Morse and Heinze were neatly pocketed during the recent panic. The smaller trust was given a drubbing and started in the same direction. The Vanderbilts can no longer retain their important control and themselves see the handwriting on the wall."

The senator quoted John Moody to show an enormous growth in trust consolidation and capitalization in four years. In 1904 Mr. Moody placed the capitalization of the industrial franchises and railroad trusts at over $20,000,000,000. That amount had increased more than $11,000,000,000, or more than 55 per cent. The $31,000,000,000, he said, did not represent the financial combinations, banks, trust and insurance companies.

Mr. LaFollette argued that the Aldrich bill would only serve to strengthen this giant money power of Wall Street. Mr. LaFollette concluded his speech with a strong appeal to the "progressive men" in the Senate to stand together and beat the bill. He spoke of the activities of the President and Mr. Bryan in combating with wrongdoing among high finance.

"Whatever difference there may be in party policy or personally between the President and Mr. Bryan, they are striving, each in his own way, for certain fundamental truths. Whatever mistakes Mr. Bryan may have made in policy, whatever mistakes the President may have made in compromising legislation, they are believed in by the people because they are fighting to preserve the principle that the nation should be governed by the people."

At the conclusion of Mr. LaFollette's remarks, Senator Teller said he had listened to his narrative with interest and some of the difficulties he complained of were already provided for by laws on the statute books, instancing laws for the punishment of derelict bank officials.

MINORITY LEADER ISSUES WARNING

paign contributions, a free wood pulp and free print paper bill and a bill against ex parte injunctions acting as a supersedeas of a law passed by a sovereign state."

Announcement Applauded.

The announcement of the determination to conduct a filibuster on all occasions where opportunity presents itself, in order to force Republicans to action, was received by the Democrats with cheers.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Maintaining that while the Republican party for the past 45 years had proclaimed the doctrine of the protective tariff for American labor and capital "against the pauper labor and cunning capital of monarchies," Mr. Cook, Republican, in the House of Representatives today, denounced the action of the Republican conferees on the Dingley tariff bill in removing the tariff on manganese ore. He referred to the fact that at the special session of Congress in 1897, Senator Bacon of Georgia had introduced a bill increasing the duty on manganese ore from 40 cents to $1 a ton, but that the Republicans put it on the free list at the behest of the Republican conferees of the House, Messrs. Dingley (Me.), Payne (N. Y.), Dalzell (Pa.), Hopkins (Ill.) and Grosvenor (O.). Messrs. Payne and Dalzell are still members of the committee.

That action, he declared, practically destroyed the production of manganese ore in the states of Colorado, Arkansas, California, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. He could reach no other conclusion, he said, than that discrimination against manganese ore, which must be used in the manufacture of steel rails and other steel structural formations, was "a glaring inconsistency which smacks strongly of special legislation for special manufacturers," because, he said, Congress had protected the American miner, laborer and manufacturer of raw material of iron ore, steel, coal, coke, gold, copper, lead, zinc, lumber and a thousand other things.

Mr. Cook declared that with wealthy American manufacturers importing free pauper labor and free ore they are indirectly cutting their own throats to save a few dollars and heaping hot coals on the heads of intelligent American consumers, not only in Colorado, but in many other states of the Union."

He pleaded for the restoration of the duty on manganese ore of 40 cents a ton, as a means of correcting that evil.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

The Power of a Strenuous President

By "K"

The article on Roosevelt by a writer signing himself "K" in the American Magazine for April, is so new and sane that one doubts whether the real "inside view" of the man ever got out before. Surely Roosevelt does not know himself one half as well as "K" knows him. And WHAT will he say? Interesting cartoons by C. R. Macaulay.

Ray Stannard Baker continues his stirring articles on the negro with the most interesting chapter that has yet appeared, "The Tragedy of the Mulatto," in which he relates story after story like that of a certain well-known actress who, when she goes to Boston, secretly visits her negro relatives. Mr. Baker shows that life is not happy for one with black blood in his veins. Many pictures.

In lighter vein is "Mr. Dooley on the Temperance Wave," showing how whisky can make a fool of you, and knock the dot off your little "i," changing it to a capital letter. McCutcheon's cartoons are screamers.

Josephine Daskam Bacon's new serial, "An Idyll of All Fool's Day" is delightful; and the pictures for it, by R. M. Crosby, are the best the art editor has provided for the magazine this month.

Lincoln Steffens tells a true detective story—how Burns caught the San Francisco grafters. Bishop Williams, of Michigan, writes on the thought-provoking subject, "The Bible: Have We Lost It?" A. E. Thomas, Julian Street and Lucile Baldwin Van Slyke are among those who produce the stories for the number.

The place to buy the American Magazine is at a news-stand or bookstore—price ten cents a copy. If you have a regular stand at which you buy papers or other magazines, let the dealer to keep a copy for you every month.

If a dealer can not supply you with The American Magazine accept no substitute. Do not miss it for this reason. What the Press Agents Say

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

Lillian Blauvelt, eminent as a concert singer, who comes to the Opera House tomorrow evening under the management of Charles B. Hall, has been saying some sensible things about music study to a New York interviewer. After describing the fantastic and absurd fads indulged in by different vocal teachers in Europe, she said:

"I strongly advise pupils, especially girls, to study near their homes, and not to go abroad for their foundation. After they have mastered their a b c's in music, and have had some experience at home, it is time to go abroad for the finishing and polishing touches which the American public seems to think is necessary in order to become famous. I believe we have in America as fine teachers as are to be found in Europe."

Beyond question she is right in all this. The quality of the teaching to be had in America has long been as good, on the whole, as that to be found in Europe. The chief benefit to be derived from foreign experience is that which comes from living for a time in the more musical atmosphere of the older society. The older society has been taught almost as a whole, enough of music as a part of ordinary education, enough of music to develop the intellectual hearing of music which is an unconscious development. The capacity for discriminating hearing is only now beginning to be developed in the American public, and it is always of slow growth.

"THE DISTRICT LEADER."

The offering at the Opera House next Monday evening will be "The District Leader." Colorado Springs has had its share of musical comedies this season, and nearly all of unusual merit, yet the coming of this new production will, judging from the advance sale of seats, be a record breaker, and how the public has become so well aware of the merits of the entertainment can hardly be accounted for, although the press of the east has spoken highly of "The District Leader" everywhere it has appeared.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press said: "The District Leader" can't be beat. It is the snappiest, most enjoyable musical comedy that has been here this year. It is a pot pourri. Its star musical number is "What's the Use of Dreaming," a suavely entrancing melody that simply permeates every fiber of the auditor and makes every dream come true. In the matter of the chorus there is praise also. It is composed of an exceptionally fine lot of well-drilled girls exquisitely costumed. The story of the piece, though melodramatic, is probably the best plot of any of today's musical comedies. The scenes are well set, the first being a reproduction of the rotunda of the Hoffman house, the second disclosing a scene from Chinatown, while the third act shows a palatial summer home and gardens on the Hudson river.

THE CHICAGO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, which will give concerts at the Opera House, Friday afternoon and night, appeared in Denver yesterday before two of the largest houses of the season in that city. The programs were lengthened materially by repeated demands for encores.

The following article appeared in the Portland, Oregonian, and tells of the orchestra's Beethoven-Wagner program in that city last spring:

"The Chicago Symphony orchestra in its three concerts given in the last two days, has shown conclusively that it is an organization composed of rarely skilled musicians under a conductor that has his men under such superb control that they seem to be a single instrument in his hands.

Not since Theodore Thomas and his men came to the Pacific coast, some 18 years ago, has a symphony orchestra visited the west. The Beethoven-Wagner program given last night probably had more grand and massive numbers on it than have ever before been heard in Portland in one evening—the bright and beautiful Beethoven symphony No. 7 in A major, the "Leonore" overture, No. 3, the violin concerto in D major by the same great master, and five splendid Wagner numbers ending with the rush-ing "Ride of the Valkyries," besides innumerable encores most generously thrown in—when before has such a feast of good things been offered to the Portland public?

It was a highly significant fact, and one for which the audience could hardly fail to be profoundly grateful, that the orchestra did its most faithful and conscientious work, not slighting a detail nor substituting easier numbers for the heavy ones down on the programs, but ready, instead, to respond heartily to the warm demonstrations of delight that came to them from over the footlights. Greater enthusiasm from an audience was probably never heard before in Portland. Women took off their gloves, so as to applaud the more freely, and the result very nearly attained the dignity of an ovation."

JOHN B. MILLER.
Tenor Soloist With the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, at the Opera House Friday Afternoon and Evening.

The Dunbar Male Quartet and Hand-Bell Ringers will appear as the seventh number of the Y. M. C. A. Star course at the Opera House, Saturday night. Of this company the St. Joseph (Mo.) News says: "The program, which was one of remarkable versatility and high merit, was made more than twice its original length by the insistent audience. Harry Dunbar's impersonation of Riley characters was received with such favor that he was recalled again and again.

Avoid Secret Stomach Remedies

Because Most of Them Contain Dangerous Ingredients, Which Produce the Drug Habit.

Thousands of people, having dyspepsia or stomach troubles in some form, continually "dope" themselves with all sorts of secret tonics, drugs, pills, cathartics, etc., which not only inflame and irritate the stomach and intestines, but in many cases cause the opium, morphine and cocaine habits.

You have a right and should demand to know what any medicine contains before you take it, unless it is put up or recommended by some reputable physician. Fakes and quacks will put most anything into their secret preparations, to make you use their useless stuff so as to want more of it, until it makes you the victim of some drug habit, which will ruin your health in a short time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy; they do not contain injurious drugs, and they are recommended by thousands of physicians in the United States and Canada to their patients for dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, and all other stomach troubles resulting from improper digestion of food.

These wonderful tablets actually digest food because they contain the very elements that are required of a healthy stomach to properly digest food, thus acting as a substitute and giving the overworked digestive organs a rest and a chance to regain their former health, strength and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain fruit and vegetable essences, the pure concentrated tincture of hydrastis, and golden seal, which tone up and strengthen the mucous coats of the stomach and increase the flow of gastric and other digestive juices; lactose (extracted from milk); nux, to strengthen the nerves controlling the action of the stomach; bismuth to absorb gases and prevent fermentation, and pure aseptic pepsin (gov. test) of the highest digestive power. All of these are scientifically incorporated in these tablets or lozenges and constitute a complete, natural, speedy cure for any stomach trouble.

Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in large fifty-cent boxes, by all druggists.

W. P. Love Sues Golden Cycle Because of Son's Injury.

Alleging that his son, Ray F. Love, 18 years old, was injured while working in the Golden Cycle mill last June through the failure of the company to provide proper shields for certain cog wheels, W. P. Love has instituted a suit in the district court for the recovery of $20,000 as compensation for the loss of the boy's left hand, which had to be amputated as a result of the accident.

The accident occurred on June 15, when the boy, who had just left the High School, went to work at the mill under Shift Boss Bryan J. Sully. According to the complaint, he was put to work oiling the machinery the day after he started to work, and while so doing, caught the sleeve of his jumper in the cog wheels, which crushed his hand so badly that it had to be amputated.

CONSERVING THE NATION'S RESOURCES.

TO live in the present and let the future take care of itself is the characteristic American way. Nobody is worrying about what may happen to-morrow—most of us are satisfied if today's wants are provided for. We may know that the inevitable "rainy day" is coming, but few of us are making preparations for it. Time enough to cross that bridge when we come to it. If we are in the midst of plenty today, make the most of it and let the next generation do its own worrying.

One reason, no doubt, for this happy-go-lucky strain in our national character is the fact that from the very beginning the American people have lived in a land flowing with milk and honey. The United States is and always has been the richest in natural resources of any country in the world. Life here has never been the struggle for existence that it is in many of the impoverished nations of the Old World. The only struggle with us was to subdue the wonderfully fertile wilderness, tap its bountiful riches and turn them to our own uses. The wealth stored by Nature in the forests, the mountains and the soil seemed absolutely inexhaustible; to all appearances they might be drawn upon for centuries to come without fear of reaching the end, or even of bringing the end in sight. It was the most natural thing in the world for a people so favored by Fortune to confuse use with misuse; to waste instead of save; to form habits of reckless extravagance instead of thrift.

But there is an end to all good things, and already the end of many of the best things provided by Nature for the people of this country is in sight. Our forests, once so widespread and so splendid in quality that nobody believed them capable of exhaustion, are dwindling, and in a few years the vanishing point will have been reached. Our coal supply, greater than that of any other country on the globe, will be gone in another seventy-five or one hundred years, unless the scientists are mistaken in their estimate. Our iron mines, also the richest in the world, are being gutted at a rate that makes the experts wonder where the ore is coming from to supply the wants of our grandchildren—for the uses of iron are multiplying daily and the rate of consumption is climbing in like ratio.

EXHAUSTION OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

No country has a richer agricultural soil than ours, but there are states where its exhaustion is already an accomplished fact. New England farms are not worth paying taxes on, unless one wants them for purposes other than agricultural. The abandoned farms of New York have become a problem so important the state government is devoting earnest study to its solution. In the Middle West this problem assumes a different aspect; it is not a matter of soil exhaustion by reason of over-cultivation or neglected fertilization, but because of the removal of the rich top soil by uncontrolled floods. Countless millions of tons of the most fertile soil in the Mississippi Valley is carried into the Gulf of Mexico each year as a result of high water; it is washed from the surface of the ground into the streams.

These matters are seldom if ever thought of by the average citizen, but one need not ponder long to realize that they are of vital importance. We cannot continue forever to abuse the resources even of the richest nation in the world without suffering dire consequences. Most of these consequences will be delayed until the next generation occupies the stage, but some of them will be visited on our own heads. But whether we, or our children, or our children's children, are the sufferers makes little difference; the point is that the consequences must be averted if possible, by precautions taken in the immediate present.

Nothing that President Roosevelt has done better justifies his claim to the exhibition of real statesmanship than his recognition of this problem and his efforts to master it. He has done more for forest protection and conservation than all of his predecessors combined. He has initiated measures to save some of the coal now stored in the ground for the use of future generations. He is working actively for the satisfactory solution of the vast problem involved in the control of our waterways, and when the solution is found it will mean the preservation of the soil, the saving of millions of dollars in destruction of property now wrought every year by floods, and the opening to commerce of several thousands of miles of river channels now closed by the drifts of mud and sand.

The President has called a meeting of the Governors of the states, to be held in Washington in May, to discuss conservation measures. The questions involved are of the greatest importance to the welfare of the nation, and the discussion of the subject that will be aroused by the conference will bring it forcibly to public notice.

VACANCIES IN THE SENATE.

DEATH has reaped a rich harvest in the United States Senate within the last year. Seven members, at least three of them men of the very first rank, have succumbed to illness, a necrology record that probably has not been equaled in any other year of recent history.

Senators Morgan and Pettus of Alabama, and White of Maryland, were the oldest members of the body. William Pinkney White, whose death occurred last week, had had a varied political career. His period of continuous service in the Senate was short, but he had been a member of that body on three different occasions, retiring after the first two to take up public service in other fields. He was a member of one of the most distinguished families of his commonwealth, having been a grandson of William Pinkney, himself a United States Senator. After the death of Pettus Senator White was the oldest member of the body, having been 84 at the time of his death.

Morgan and Pettus were notables of higher rank, principally by reason of their longer service in the Senate. Both represented the finest type of what Southerners with justifiable pride call "gentleman of the old school." Both had distinguished Civil War records; both had filled posts of honor in their state prior to election to the Senate, and both attained eminence in that body by reason of ability and high character.

Senator Proctor, whose death occurred a few days ago, was successor to George F. Edmunds, one of the big men of the last generation. For three years he was Secretary of War under President Harrison, resigning to enter the upper branch of Congress in 1891. His death has an especial interest in Colorado Springs because of the appointment of John W. Stewart, father of Philip B. Stewart of this city, as his successor.

The other three Senators who have passed away within the year are Stephen R. Mallory and William James Bryan of Florida, and Asbury C. Latimer of South Carolina. Senator Latimer was a comparatively new member, having taken his seat in 1903 to succeed Senator McLaurin, but he had served for several terms in the House.

Florida has lost two of her senators within three months; Stephen R. Mallory and William James Bryan. The first had been a member of the upper house since 1857, the other, his successor, had been in office only seventy-three days—scarcely long enough to become familiar with the daily routine. It is an odd fact that two of the Senators who have died recently—Pettus and White—were the oldest members of the body, and Bryan was the youngest—only 32.

The appointments of successors to these seven deceased members will make a change in the composition of the Senate comparable only to that brought about by an election. Most of the new members are already in office, while other appointments are yet to be made. That of Senator Stewart was announced only yesterday.

OUGHT TO MAKE PROGRESS.

From the Philadelphia Record.

The winter began with the Boyertown slaughter of the innocents and ends with the Cleveland slaughter of the innocents. By doing their duty throughout the country from this time on, those who are in a position to act may so safeguard furnaces and so enlarge and rationalize exits as to make impossible a slaughter of the innocents next winter.

ENGLAND, THE CONGO AND THE UNITED STATES.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

In his capacity as under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Lord Fitzmaurice has just delivered a speech in the house of lords which justifies a somewhat confident expectation that the odious conditions so long existing in the Congo Free State will presently be ended. Pleading the magnitude of the difficulties to be overcome and referring to the negotiations which are proceeding between King Leopold and the Belgian parliament, he deprecated any immediate action, but he assured his hearers that the British government would not accept as satisfactory or conclusive anything less than a complete vindication of both the treaty obligations and of the claims of humanity. He also communicated the interesting and important information that he and his colleagues had been in consultation on the subject with the government of the United States and that this country was co-operating with his own toward the attainment of an end as to whose eminent desirability they were mutually agreed.

This is a statement which will be received here with gratification, but without surprise. It is true that some time ago Secretary Root, when urged at least to assume a sympathetic attitude toward the wretched blacks who are being murdered, tortured and oppressed by King Leopold's agents for the collection of rubber, ivory and other tropical products in the Congo Free State, refused to take any interest in the matter and plainly declared that the iniquities being perpetrated in Central Africa under the guise of philanthropy and commercial enterprise were none of our business. But since then various things have transpired which indicated either that Secretary Root had undergone a change of heart or that his dictum in this connection had been overruled. There has been a growing feeling at Washington and elsewhere that the situation in the Congo urgently demanded intervention and that if the European powers were restrained by their mutual jealousies from taking the initiative, to do so would presently become the duty of the United States.

It now appears that Great Britain, with our support, is getting ready to do so, and that is better. It will be better still if the Belgians themselves will take such action as will render any intervention unnecessary. There was recently a rather bright prospect that this would be done, but the latest advices are less encouraging. They announce that King Leopold, who had agreed to relinquish his interest in the crown domain for $30,000,000, the revenue from which was to be applied under the direction of parliament to certain public purposes, now insists not only that this sum be placed at his own disposition, but that he receive an additional amount of $50,000,000 to be used for the execution of certain plans whose nature is not disclosed.

It is not expected that the ministry will assent to these revised conditions and should Leopold remain obdurate the consequent resignation of the ministry will result in the dissolution of parliament and a general election. Possibly the statements made by Lord Fitzmaurice will facilitate and expedite a settlement.

COLORADO IS FOR ROOSEVELT AND TAFT.

From the Pueblo Chieftain.

The action of the El Paso county convention in passing by a unanimous vote a resolution indorsing the presidential candidacy of Secretary Taft should be accepted as conclusive of the sentiment of the Republicans of this state upon this matter. It was alleged that the faction in control of that convention was in favor of uninstructed delegates to Chicago, but however that may be the sentiment of the county convention was so overwhelmingly in favor of Taft that no one ventured to oppose the resolution indorsing his candidacy.

There are two very strong reasons why it would be folly to omit a Taft indorsement at the state convention or to fail to instruct the Colorado delegates to Chicago to support Taft.

In the first place the Republicans of Colorado are outspoken in their approval of President Roosevelt and what are known as the Roosevelt policies. The number of Colorado Republicans who would be willing to go on record as opposed to Roosevelt is inconsiderable. And it is a fact beyond question that an uninstructed delegation to Chicago is an anti-Roosevelt delegation.

The Republicans of Colorado, by a vast majority, are for Taft, and the only sensible course for them to pursue is to declare their preferences in the usual way by instructing their delegates for Taft, and to leave no ground of encouragement for those that are trying to work up an anti-Roosevelt combination in the Chicago convention.

And in the second place the Republican state convention should have some regard for the success of the party next November. There is no doubt that the Republican party in Colorado will be very much stronger in the coming campaign under the Roosevelt banner, than it would be if the opposition party could make the charge that the Republican organization is anti-Roosevelt. It is undoubtedly true that Roosevelt could carry the state by a large plurality. It is also true that an anti-Roosevelt Republican candidate for President could not come within 75,000 votes of getting the indorsement of the people of this state.

It would be a fatal mistake for the Republican convention in Pueblo to leave any doubt in the mind of any voter as to whether the Republican party of Colorado approves and indorses the Roosevelt administration, and the only way to put this matter right before the people is to indorse the Taft candidacy and to send instructed Taft delegates to Chicago.

EDITOR KNEW YORICK.

From the Okanogan (Wash.) Record.

An Okanogan town dog brought in the lower jawbone of a man the other day and laid it unbroken at the feet of his master, Frank Trotter. The piece of bone was in a perfect state of preservation. The editor of the Record looked it over and concluded it was part of the remains of an Indian, judging from the splendid condition of the teeth, which, though worn on their grinding surface, were without filling or cavities. Alas, poor Yorick!

CABAL AGAINST OBIT. POETRY.

From the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

The worst society in the world is that which is inspired by the death of some friend or relative. A Kansas exchange comes to the Gazette this week with four samples of it. The editor of the paper is doubtless ashamed of it all, but he lives and moves and has his being in a small town, and he can't afford to offend his patrons by refusing to publish the stuff. All the poems were written by women, and a couple of them are so much alike that one hand might have produced them. They are so wretchedly insufferable and that the people in whose memory they were written must be weeping in heaven. It is a curious thing that so many people turn to poetry when a death occurs in their particular circle of friends. A poetic tribute to the dead is something that calls for the highest effort of the genius of real bards; anything short of the sublime is ridiculous; so much so that the reader only overcomes his disgust in order to laugh. The editors of Kansas will meet in Emporia in the spring, and that will be a good time for them to pass a series of resolutions binding all members to keep obituary poems out of the columns of their papers. Then the editors will have a reasonable excuse for declining to publish the unspeakable doggerel that makes their hearts ache every time a death occurs.

GOV. D. B. BROOKS HERE

WYOMING GOVERNOR VISITS DEAF AND BLIND SCHOOL.

Accompanied by Three Other Officials of That State Pleased With Work Done.

Four members of the state board of charities and corrections of Wyoming were visitors yesterday at the state Deaf and Blind school, where there are five pupils enrolled from various points in Wyoming, which state has no similar institution. The party was headed by Governor E. B. Brooks, the other members being Le Roy Grant, state auditor; A. D. Cook, superintendent of public instruction, and F. D. Sheldon, secretary of the state board of charities and corrections.

The party came to this city from Golden, where they visited the State Industrial School for Boys. All were enthusiastic in their commendation of the Deaf and Blind school in this city. They arrived at 10 o'clock in the morning, and did not leave until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, making a thorough inspection of the institution.

Governor Brooks was particularly pleased with the many improvements made since the occasion of his last visit, two years ago. Before leaving, the party expressed the highest appreciation of the excellent work being done under the direction of Superintendent W. K. Argo.

HIGH GRADE ORE OPENED

Fanny Rawlins Mine Scene of Another Rich Strike.

Advice from the Fanny Rawlins Mining company property in Leadville, is to the effect that exceedingly rich ore has been encountered in the shoot which was opened up some months ago and which is now being worked by Thomas D. Kyle, lessee. Eighteen pounds of ore, carrying $100 to the pound, has been taken out. This ore was found in a streak in the 600-foot level.

John A. Himebaugh, proprietor of the Spaulding hotel, is president of the company, most of the stock of which is held by Colorado Springs people. Mr. Himebaugh stated yesterday that the lessees had been in good ore for some time, having made a shipment some time ago running 50 ounces in gold to the ton. Another small shipment of this grade of ore will be made soon.

White spots can be removed from polished mahogany furniture by rubbing them with camphorated oil and allowing the oil to soak.

FIRE DRILL WELL EXECUTED

Lowell School Emptied of 950 Pupils in One Minute and Thirty-six Seconds.

It required only one minute and 36 seconds to empty the Lowell school of its 950 pupils in a fire drill held yesterday morning at 11:36 o'clock. The drill, entirely unexpected by the pupils, was held to demonstrate how quickly the largest school building in Colorado Springs could be completely cleared of its pupils in case of emergency. It was carried on without the slightest confusion, and as soon as the building was emptied Principal J. W. Scott sounded the return gong, the whole exercise not consuming more than four minutes.

The drill was witnessed by Mayor D. N. Heizer, Charles T. Fertig, president of the city council; Robert J. Verner, water superintendent; M. P. Yates, water commissioner; Alderman John Hill, and W. P. Kinney, member of the school board. All were highly pleased with the effectiveness of the drill, and it was the recommendation of Mayor Heizer that the drill should be practiced in every building at least twice a week.

Inspection of the building showed it to be in first-class condition throughout. All the doors in the building open outward and none are locked in the daytime.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

Justice W. N. Ruby yesterday sentenced H. R. Brown to 60 days in the county jail for the theft of an overcoat from his rooming house on West Bijou street.

Wilfred Walker, arrested several days ago by the police for the alleged theft of a bicycle, pleaded not guilty in the district court yesterday and was remanded to jail to await trial.

Monroe Adams, colored, was yesterday sentenced to 60 days in the county jail for stabbing Kid Billingsley at a dance in the coal mine district several days ago. The man was tried in the court of Justice Dunnington.

John Myers, arrested several months ago for forgery in connection with money received for a team belonging to George Bentley, who was sick in the hospital at the time, was yesterday sentenced to a term of two years and a half in the penitentiary at Canon City. A light sentence was given on account of the man's ill health.

In the county court, yesterday, Judge Robert Kerr granted the petition of Mrs. Carrie D. Fletemeyer to be appointed administrator of the estate of her late husband, J. W. Fletemeyer, who died Monday, leaving no will. The application sets forth that the deceased left no real estate and that the personal property does not exceed $2,000.

Four boys—J. C. Hanna, Louis Shaw, J. Lee Fleming and Herman Cruts—were yesterday taken to the reformatory at Buena Vista, to which the last three have been sentenced for setting fire to houses at Glasstown, and Hanna for burglary of the Murray Drug company's store.

Clarence Massey, colored, yesterday pleaded guilty, in the district court, to the theft of a saddle and bicycle, and was remanded to jail to await sentence. He confessed to the theft of seven wheels and two saddles since his release from the State Industrial school at Golden, a year ago. He will probably be sent to the state reformatory.

BOTH MAY BE CANDIDATES

Kinney and Little Probably Will Seek Re-election.

It is expected that both W. P. Kinney and J. E. Little will be candidates for re-election as members of the board of education at the annual election on Monday, May 4.

Mr. Kinney is completing a full term, having served on the board for the last five years. During that time he has been one of the most useful members of the board, his thorough knowledge of the entire machinery of school management having qualified him for the position. For one year he was president of the board. At the present time he is chairman of the audit and finance and of the teachers and salaries committees.

When O. E. Hemenway resigned last spring, Mr. Little was made his successor, and, according to the law, holds office under this appointment only until the ensuing election. There are two more years of the unexpired term. He is a member of the committee on rules and regulations and of audit and finance. Besides his last year's service of the board of education here he has also had experience in school work in other cities.

READS PAPER ON SHRUBS

Horticultural Society Holds Interesting Meeting.

At the regular semimonthly meeting of the El Paso County Horticultural society, held at the court house last night, a paper on "What Shrubs to Plant and When," by William Dunman, head gardener at the Union Printers home, was read by Edward Johnson. The paper, which was very appropriate for the time of year, contained many valuable suggestions on the planting of shrubs, both native and foreign, and instructions for their care throughout the summer months. The paper was followed by an interesting discussion.

On April 7 an interesting paper on "Children's Gardens: Their Value as Educators" will be read by Miss Van Pelt, principal of the Helen Hunt school.

Baby's Health

is a matter of extreme moment to every mother and yet comparatively few know of the proper foods to insure proper nourishment and prevent colic and similar ailments. The first few months of a baby's life mean much. Food which is suitable for an adult causes fermentation and gas in the stomach of a baby. Science has discovered that the most active ferment in baby's food is sugar and the doctors now recommend

AN UNUSUAL CLAUSE IN WILL

Youth Must Earn and Save $1,000 Three Years in Order to Inherit Equal Sum.

To make and save $1,000 by his own unaided efforts in the next three years, is the problem which faces 18-year-old Guy F. Burwell, son of the late Moses T. Burwell of Colorado City, who provides in his will that if the young man fulfills these requirements before his 21st birthday, he is to be paid $1,000 out of the estate, but if not, the amount set aside for this purpose is to be divided equally among the other heirs.

Mr. Burwell, who was a wealthy pioneer banker of Colorado City, formerly of Gibson City, Ill., died on March 11 and his will was filed for probate in the county court yesterday. No figures are given as to the value of the estate, but it is estimated at not less than $100,000. The executors are Mrs. Emma M. Burwell, widow, Thomas F. Burwell, son, and Luther Burns, son-in-law. With the exception of the conditional bequest to his son, Guy F., and the bequest of the home at 124 Lincoln avenue, to his wife, Mr. Burwell divided his estate equally among the several heirs, who are Mrs. Emma Burwell, William J., Thomas F., Moses T. and Guy F., sons, and Mrs. Nettie B. Henry and Alice Burns, daughters.

TAMMANY MEN TO GLENWOOD

Popular Colorado Resort May Entertain New York Delegation After Democratic Convention.

If plans now being considered by the interested railroads and the town of Glenwood Springs are carried out, there will be something doing in the west end of the state for a few weeks following the Democratic national convention in Denver in July.

It is the intention of the railroads that will be benefited and the city of Glenwood to invite the entire Tammany delegation to the convention to visit Glenwood Springs immediately after the convention is over. The Tammany hall crowd, it is said, will number 1,400 of the most prominent Democrats in the state of New York.

For many years it has been the custom of the followers of Tammany to spend a few weeks together at some watering place after the national convention is over. French Lick, Ind., has been the chosen spot for years, owing to its proximity to the convention cities. This year Glenwood Springs will seek to secure the big Democrats. Efforts will also be made to have the delegation spend a few days in the Pikes Peak region.

RADIUM AT HARTSEL

EXPERT SAYS THAT DISTRICT HAS BRIGHT FUTURE.

Has Been Making Extensive Investigations for Eastern Syndicate. Prospects Encouraging.

Radium in abundance is to be found at Hartsel, a resort in South Park 68 miles west of Colorado Springs, on the Midland road, according to William Winterhorn, an eastern chemist and mineralogist, who has just returned from what he calls the radium-bearing district.

Mr. Winterhorn has been in Colorado for several months in the interests of an eastern syndicate that is prosecuting a vigorous search for radium. He is on his way to New York with exhaustive reports of the Hartsel district and is carrying several boxes of quartz samples and numerous bottles of the water from that vicinity.

"In all my travels," said Mr. Winterhorn, "I have never before found such pronounced indications of paying bodies of this mineral. Radium is as yet considerable of a mystery to chemists and mineralogists, but the next few years will surely find it better known and found in highly-paying quantities.

Says Walsh Is Right.

"I note that Thomas F. Walsh, one of your leading Colorado mining men, stated to the house committee on mining, that there was a billion dollars' worth of radium to be found in this country. I think that he is right about it, and that most of the mineral will be found in Colorado. I am taking test samples of water and rocks from different parts of the state, and from my personal tests, I am convinced that the showing made at Hartsel will develop into the finest in the world."

When asked whether his syndicate would begin operations at Hartsel, Mr. Winterhorn said:

"My samples will be put to every known test before anything is done. This will require several months, as some of them will be sent to experts in Germany. The people I represent have ample means to develop on a large scale any enterprise they undertake."

Mr. Winterhorn left last night for New York city.

DOING EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING

Millions Will Read About Pikes Peak Region Through Efforts of Colorado Midland.

N. L. Drew, general agent for the Colorado Midland road in this city, is in receipt of some interesting evidences of the wide advertising which the Pikes Peak region is now getting through the middle west. There are in the form of proof sheets of six separate stories that will appear serially in 700 of the leading newspapers, having a combined circulation in their territory of 1,050,000. This will give the six stories of the state a circulation of 6,300,000.

The boosting is being done by the Colorado Midland road through Lee Haney, its advertising representative. Mr. Haney was formerly a well-known newspaper man and the stories that will appear show that he has not lost his cunning in turning out live and interesting matter. The illustrations that will appear in his articles are the work of Frank Finch, the Denver cartoonist, who came into notice through his "Doc Bird" sketches.

As the terminal point of the Midland, Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou are given prominent place in the series of stories which are all in the form of pure reading matter, and accurately describe the scenic and climatic advantages enjoyed in the Pikes Peak region.

VICTOR WANTS MORE WATER

But Colorado Springs Declines to Comply With Request.

Claiming that Colorado Springs is getting more than her share of the water from Beaver creek, which also supplies Victor with water, City Attorney Ferguson and City Engineer Balderson of that city were in Colorado Springs yesterday to confer with Mayor Helzer and other city officials. The claim of the Victor people is that their city is running on short allowance of water because Colorado Springs is taking more than it is entitled to through the intake at the upper end of Beaver creek where the water for Victor is also taken out.

The two Victor men spent several hours with the Mayor, Water Superintendent E. J. Verner, City Engineer E. H. Ashworth and other city officials with the hope of inducing them to agree to the construction of weirs at the intake for the more equal division of water. The claim is made that the water shortage in Victor is serious.

The question is an old one and much agitated by the people of Victor and the visitors were given to understand that nothing could be done by the city to remedy the alleged shortage.

J. W. STEWART HONORED

WILL REPRESENT VERMONT IN U. S. SENATE.

Receives Notice of Appointment While Visiting at Home of His Son in This City.

John W. Stewart of Middlebury, Vt., who has been visiting his son, Philip B. Stewart, at his home, 1228 Wood avenue, this city, for the last three weeks, was yesterday appointed by Governor Fletcher D. Proctor to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of his father, United States Senator Redfield Proctor. He received the announcement of his appointment in this city yesterday, and has accepted. He will fill the unexpired term of Senator Proctor, serving until the Vermont legislature meets in regular session next fall. The appointment came to Mr. Stewart unsolicited, and in appreciation of his many years of service for his state.

Mr. Stewart, now more than 70 years old, was governor of Vermont from 1870 to 1872, later entering the Forty-eighth Congress and serving in the House of Representatives for eight years, declining renomination at the end of that time.

Mr. Stewart, accompanied by his daughter, arrived in Colorado Springs about three weeks ago, and will remain here two or three weeks longer. He has frequently visited his son here, and has a large number of friends in Colorado Springs.

MATTHEWS FUNERAL HELD

Friends Pay Last Tribute to Popular Springs Boy.

Many sorrowing friends gathered at the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon to pay their last tribute to Donald E. Matthews, the young Colorado Springs man who met death in an accident in the railroad yards in Salt Lake City, last Friday. A large number of floral tributes attested the esteem in which the young man was held by his friends and associates both in this city and in Salt Lake City. An appropriate floral design was sent by the Salt Lake union of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Classmates of Donald Matthews while he was in High School, together with fellow carriers with whom he had worked on The Gazette, and railway clerks with whom he had been associated here, attended the funeral services in large numbers. Members of the Eastern Star and North End W. C. T. U. attended out of respect for Mrs. Matthews. The services were conducted by the Rev. T. C. Kirkwood and the Rev. Henry Rutgers Remsen. The music was particularly beautiful, one of the most effective pieces being the singing of "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by Mrs. Bonnie Davis White.

The pallbearers were the following former friends and associates of the young man: Arthur Harper, Leland Pollock, Fred Broege, Alex Wilson, Alfred Bainbridge and Dwight Taggart. Six honorary pallbearers—Messrs. Gardner, Ellis, Seward, Foster, Horr and Crawlins—represented the local union of the railway clerks.

Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

WALL STREET NERVOUS

INCREASED APPREHENSION IN FINANCIAL WORLD.

Importance of Supreme Court Decision Felt by Speculators—Price Movement Irregular.

NEW YORK, March 24.—There was increased apprehension in the financial world today of the importance of yesterday's supreme court decision at Washington against the validity of the Minnesota and North Carolina railroad rate laws. The late advice in the market yesterday was traceable to this source, but not enough was known to perceive the scope of the decision. The principles laid down in the decision are felt to provide material safeguards in a situation which the fears of the financial world have viewed with much solicitude for many months past. Not only is the force of existing state laws has there been subject to attack on the part of capitalists and security holders, but still more is the threat of an extension of the campaign against corporations which would leave them, in the troubled apprehension of their owners, little chance for life.

It is from this point of view that the influence of sentiment on the protection promised by the ruling of the supreme court of the United States must be estimated. Severity of penalties in the way of fines and imprisonment, such as might work as an intimidation against an appeal from the law, are pointed out as justifying the assertion of a constitutional right of protection. The special application of the decision was seen in the marked response of certain stocks. Consolidated Gas, for instance, has threshed out in the state courts the 80-cent gas law on the claim that it was confiscatory in its effect. This company was an intervening party in the case decided yesterday. Stocks of railroads in some of the southern states which have been most stringent in their regulation of railroads were prompt to reflect the significance of the case. Northwestern railroads, although they seem to have an equal interest in the question, were less affected, and this was undoubtedly because of the prominent place those stocks have held in the previous advance in the market. There was, in fact, a very extensive digestion of profits affected in the course of the day, and the price movement was in consequence uneven and irregular at times.

The President's forthcoming message was a subject of discussion, and there were those about the stock exchange professing to know its contents. The amendments offered by Mr. Hepburn to the Sherman antitrust law were assumed to direct the course of the President's presentment. An amendment of the present law so as to restrict its inhibition of agreements in restraint of trade to those only which are unreasonable would be received with gratification in the financial world and apparently throughout the railroad world. The involvement of that subject with the elaborate plan for federal registration and extended control of corporations by the government authorities does not awaken enthusiasm among those having to do with the ownership and sale of corporation securities.

Profit taking took a good deal off the top prices in the late trading, but the market on the whole showed greater breadth and strength than for any day this year.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,210,000. United States 3s declined ½ per cent on call.

WHEAT CLOSES STRONG

REPORTS OF DAMAGE BY DRY WEATHER IN SOUTHWEST.

Corn Market Strong All Day, Closing at High Point—Trade in Oats Quiet—Provisions Firm.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The wheat market dragged early in the day because of lower prices at Liverpool. Later, however, the market became firm because of reports of an improved demand for cash wheat at St. Louis and Minneapolis. At the last named point millers were said to be paying 2½c per bushel over May for No. 1 northern. The market was also strengthened by reports of damage by dry weather in the southwest. The close was strong and near the high point. May opened ⅛ to ¼ lower at 91 to 91¼, sold off to 90⅞ and then advanced to 92¼. The close was at 92¼. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 335,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 456,000 bushels against 501,000 bushels on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 381 cars, against 482 cars last week and 465 cars one year ago.

The corn market was strong all day and closed at the highest point. Commission houses and shorts were active bidders throughout the entire session. Offerings, which were limited, came chiefly from longs. An advance at Liverpool, small receipts and predictions that the movement would be still further reduced were the bullish factors. May opened ¼ to ⅜ higher at 66¼ to 66½, sold off to 66⅛ and then advanced to 67¼, where it closed. Local receipts were 295 cars, with 14 of contract grade.

Trade in oats was very quiet and the market was firm in sympathy with corn. May opened ⅛ higher at 53⅝, sold off to 53½ and then advanced to 54⅛, where it closed. Local receipts were 39 cars.

Provisions were firm all day on active buying of pork and ribs by commission houses and shorts. At the close, May pork was up 25c at $12.50@12.47½; lard was 10c higher, at $7.92½; ribs were up 7½@10c at $6.77½@6.80.

$30 ORE SHIPPED OUT

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 24.—Stafford brothers, leasing on the Midway, on Ironclad hill, near the town of Midway, on Bull hill, sent out a carload of ore yesterday that will give values of about $30 in gold to the ton. These lessees are breaking ore from 18 inches to two feet at a depth of about 250 feet and east from the shaft. This claim has produced some good ore, running at times better than $100, but the ore comes in pockets, and apparently the true shoot has not yet been uncovered in this property. O. D. Fogleman a few years ago shipped out considerable ore of a splendid grade from this mine and spent considerable money in prospecting for the vein.

HER FEET WERE SORE AND CRACKED

Soles Seemed as Though Covered with Knife Cuts—Could Not Bear Weight of Feet Even on Pillow—Was Long Unable to Walk—Many Remedies Failed—Now Cured.

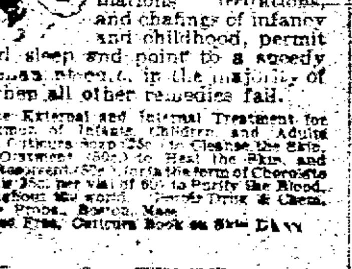

WILL PRAISE CUTICURA AS LONG AS SHE LIVES

"Some four years ago I had the misfortune to have my feet get sore. The doctors could not tell me what it was. I used everything I could hear or think of but all to no avail. The feet were all cracked across the bottom as if you had taken a knife and cut them every whichway. They would peel up, and, oh, my! how they did hurt when I would try to walk—which I was not able to do for a long time. One day one of our neighbors came to our house and asked what was the matter. I showed him my feet and he said he had some Cuticura Ointment which would heal them up. There was only enough to apply once, but I found it helped me so much that I sent for a set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, costing one dollar, and to my great joy, my feet were cured and have never troubled me since. I shall praise Cuticura as long as I live for the great help it has been. Mrs. Margaret Primmer, Plattin, Mo., June 30 and July 21, 1907."

Not Merely One, but Many Big Features Every Month in the

NEW BROADWAY

The Most Interesting Magazine in America

IT'S the usual thing for a magazine to have one, or two, or three big features in each issue—BUT

Do you know why BROADWAY keeps right on making greater gains in circulation than any other magazine in the land?

It's because the people have found out that the NEW BROADWAY does the Unusual thing and simply packs its pages with big features every month. Two or three great contributions are not enough for BROADWAY. Each article, each story and each picture that appears in its pages has all the care and brains put into its making that a diamond-cutter puts into the fashioning and furbishing of a diamond. Result: A dozen brilliant features every month that glow with vim and vigor, that glitter with human interest, that fairly sparkle with brightness.

That's what makes BROADWAY a brand new kind of magazine; absolutely different from any other publication.

Here are a few of the Twenty Big Features in the April number:

Trinity: Church of Mystery

By Charles Edward Russell, the famous magazine writer, tells a powerful story of one of the richest and most mysterious landlord churches in the United States. This is one of the things you don't know about, because BROADWAY is the first magazine that has been able to get this marvelous story. Many other magazines have attempted to lift the veil but BROADWAY is the only one that has succeeded.

Our Falstaffian Army

contains things that every real patriot ought to know. Do you know that the "Boys in Blue" are actually in need of shoes? Read Rupert Hughes' second BROADWAY article on army conditions—Rupert Hughes' article on the army in the March BROADWAY has aroused interest from coast to coast. This second article by the same writer is one that no real American can read without tremendous feeling. You will be amazed and angered and humiliated perhaps, at the revelations made by Mr. Hughes.

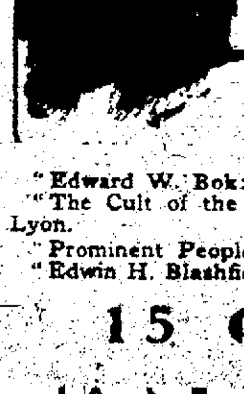

The Call of the Shops

A woman's article, written in that intimate feminine vein which makes BROADWAY MAGAZINE so popular among its woman readers. Mabel Potter Daggett depicts the lures and luxuries of New York shopping, where all the latest styles of all the world are on display. Millions of dollars' worth of new things are seen this spring and acres of floor space are covered with shoppers' delights.

In the Thick of the Anti-Trust Fight

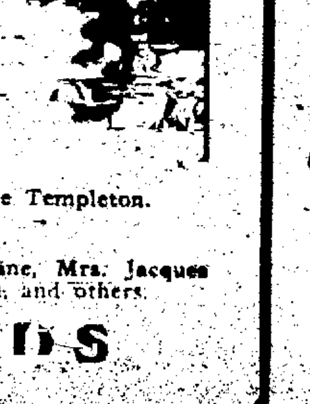

Is the fourth of Herbert N. Casson's remarkable series concerning great corporations. You surely are not missing these sensational, truth-telling stories? Read in April of the Great Southwest and the Trusts—what Texas, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri are doing! It is an astounding fight.

The Mystery of the Lace Veil

Is an absorbing detective story in which wireless telegraphy and a "leak" in the U. S. Navy play a prominent part. It is written by Broughton Brandenberg, and for unusual interest and thrilling climaxes is a surpassing piece of fiction.

Estelle

By Porter Emerson Browne, is a humorous classic. It is the funniest piece of fiction that has appeared in years, with a moth-eaten lion in a melodrama as the hero.

These are only six out of eighteen full-fledged features; briefly here are some others of importance:

"Edward W. Bok: Editor Extraordinary," by Ada Patterson.
"The Cult of the Snicker in Drama-Land," by Harris Merton Lyon.
"Prominent People in Picture and Paragraph."
"Edwin H. Blashfield: Mural Painter," by Florence Finch Kelly.
"The Ghosts of Chartre's Mills," by Herminie Templeton.
"In Search of a Parent," by E. T. Rath.

Other stories by Owen Kildare, Frank Crane, Mrs. Jacques Futrelle, Margaret Fawcett, Thomas L. Masson, and others.

NEW VEIN DISCOVERED

FIND IN VIRGIN TERRITORY OF MOUNTAIN BEAUTY.

Is Believed to Be Continuation of Lucky Guss Vein—Ore Runs Between $50 and $90.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 24.—The Findley Consolidated Gold Mining company, which has a lease on the Mountain Beauty property, adjoining, from the 900-foot level down, has encountered the Lucky Guss vein at a depth of 1,000 feet, or on the eleventh level. This vein is nearly four feet wide and has been opened up for a short distance. The ore will run between $50 and $60 in gold to the ton. This is a new and separate vein from the one from which the Findley company mined and shipped so much good ore a year or two ago. The new vein has been found in virgin territory, and it gives promise of being a heavy and rich producer. According to surveys the vein is merely a continuation of the very rich one opened up in the Lucky Guss by Messrs. Moore and Seeley, who are shipping about two cars of ore a week and receiving returns running several hundred dollars in gold to the ton. The best shipment sent out by these operators went 24 ounces.

Holmen and associates, who started to work on the surface of the Mountain Beauty, are now driving on a good-sized body of ore of a low or medium grade at an approximate depth of 500 feet. They are saving ore and have made a few shipments. The assays taken yesterday, however, indicated that the ore was only running $16, but it has been better than this, and the lessees are following the ore in the hope that the grade will improve.

STRIKE IN MATTIE D

TWO-FOOT BODY OF ORE FOUND AT DEPTH.

Values Expected to Run Between Three and Four Ounces Smith and Altman, Lessees.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 24.—Messrs. Smith and Altman, who have been leasing on the Doctor-Jack Pot Consolidated company's holdings, on Raven hill, are shipping out several cars of ore a week, and the grade is very good. During the past few days these lessees have made a new strike in the Mattie D claim, while sinking a winze from the 700-foot level. They have opened up a two-foot body of ore that will give values of from three to four ounces in gold to the ton. They are also mining ore from the Elizabeth Cooper and Jack Pot claims, and have sublet some of the territory.

The Doctor-Jack Pot Consolidated Gold Mining company is in better financial condition today than it has been in five or six years. The company now has about $30,000 in its treasury, and it is expected that a dividend of 1 cent will be paid within a short time. The company has only paid half-cent dividends during the past few years, and those were intermittent. The company, however, is realizing a handsome return from the ore shipped out by Messrs. Thompson and Humphrey, who are shipping out a superior grade of ore from the Lucky Corner claim. Work is being done through the Ophelia or Moffat tunnel. The ore shoot in the Lucky Corner is from 10 to 15 feet wide, and the values run from three to seven ounces in gold.
